Ashland Gun Club Lease Negotiations

By Harley Davidson,
SASS #47309

Busy is the name of the game for JSR. Not only is the annual shoot committee preparing for our event in August, Just Bill is also involved with lease negotiations with the Ashland Parks Department. For those of you who haven't been following the process or even heard about it, here are some basics.

Bill has been hard at work meeting with the Parks Department and speaking on behalf of the gun club and JSR in reference to the importance of the range and how its members have been maintaining and protecting the historical value of the property. It is home to the Lithia Springs and once was the home to a dry ice factory. The historical society is also involved in the process and is asking that the property be deemed a historical landmark and that the gun clubs lease not be renewed. So, JSR's involvement is very important during this process. Last weekend a handful of members went to the range and did some clean up to prepare for the Ashland Parks Department tour of the property to be held April 22nd at 4pm. A group of JSR members will have a stage set up and be practicing during the tour so the Parks Department can see how the group utilizes the facilities. If you are available, please come out and join the group.

Sourdough Smitty has also submitted a letter to the Parks Department in reference to the properties importance to JSR, how we use the facility and the involvement the group has in maintaining the property. You can read that letter starting on page 3.

Bill has also been interviewed by the Ashland Tidings about the property, it's history, and its value to the gun club. The article can be found on the web at:

Annual Shoot Update

By Harley Davidson,
SASS #47309

The Annual Shoot Committee is meeting on a monthly basis to prepare for the August event. Many people are already calling and emailing to find out when registration will be open to shooters. The committee decided to send out mailers and applications after End of Trail so that everyone has a fair chance at registering. 90 slots will be available for the event and it is expected to fill up quickly like last year, so be prepared for your mailer the first part of May. The next meeting will be held directly after the business meeting May 10th at Angelo's Pizza in Phoenix.

Ashland Gun Club

Letter to the Ashland Parks Department by Sourdough Smitty

April 10, 2004

City of Ashland Parks Department:

My name is Kevin Eric Nussbaum, as President of The Jefferson State Regulators, an Old West re-enactment club, and as a fourth generation Jackson county resident still residing on our Lake Creek Homestead, I would like to address the issue of guns being compatible with and/or a part of history and the continued use of the Ashland Gun Club location.

Each month (on the 3rd Saturday) 35 to 45 history buffs gather at the Ashland Gun Club to bring back to life the late 1800's. This is the same time period Jackson County was being settled. For many of us our interest started with stories of our pioneering ancestors and by handling the irreplaceable heirlooms that we still possess. If you would like to know both the value and the price of western heritage, ask a Cowboy Action Shooter. After all, the items most often handed down from generation to generation are photos, jewelry, watches, and firearms. As an extension of this interest we now use reproductions of both the firearms and of the clothing, some of which are made by the competitors themselves, to add individuality, creativity and discussion to our competitions. If you would like to know how things used to be made, again ask a Cowboy Action Shooter. Our members include; people who forge steel, cast brass, form leather, sew clothes and work with wood in order to recreate the items we cannot buy.

Our annual shoot attracts 90 plus competitors, about 60 men and 30 women, and their family members to the Ashland area from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and California. This annual event serves as a competition, bazaar, reunion, right of passage, history lesson and a chance to visit the local stores and restaurants some of which have roots in western history.

During an average year the Jefferson State Regulator's monthly matches host a total of about 550 competitors. Many of our members also use the facilities during the week for practice and training and often volunteer their time for work-parties that include maintaining the buildings, berms, firebreaks, weed-eating, raking, and yes, painting and cleaning the toilets.

The Ashland Gun Club is special for several reasons:

It provides members with a long established well-maintained facility in which to practice. It provides a place for families to pass on traditions and history to the next generation. It offers a training facility for hunter safety classes, sportsmen, local law enforcement personnel and National Guard troops and for testing purposes by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife National Forensics Laboratory. And of course the people; mentors who teach safety, respect, cooperation, community service, and sportsmanship. They have invested generations of sweat equity in creating a place to be proud of.

I would like to thank the City of Ashland for giving proactive history buffs like the Jefferson State Regulators the opportunity to relive our history while enjoying our favorite sport, and ask that the lease be continued so that history can continue to be relived, remembered and passed on to others.

Sincerely,

Kevin Eric Nussbaum
