Shootout at Lithia Springs 2004 Special Edition

By Harley & Jed
SASS #47309 & 36423

This year's Shootout at Lithia Springs was another great success for the Jefferson State Regulators. In total 77 shooters enjoyed the 12-stage main match as well side matches, including, cowboy clays, and the "man-on-man" shootout. After all the scores were in and time was tallied, Mid Valley Drifter took home top shoot honors with a total time of 395.85. Pinto Annie won the Ladies "Man-on-Man" Shootout, Transit Man won the Men's Man-on-Man Shootout, and Oregonian won the cowboy clays.

The Saturday night evening social was a wonderful gathering of cowboys and cowgirls, gentlemen and ladies enjoying a tasty tri-tip dinner and winning a pile of door prizes. Some of the big winners; Rico Kid took home a Colt-clone cap and ball pistol, Rogue River Renegade went home with a .22 pump rifle, and Hoodoo walked away with a Rossi Model '92 rifle.

Thanks to everyone who worked on putting this event together; thank you to those who came out to shoot it; and thank you to all the sponsors who donated money and prizes!

We hope to see everyone in our neck of the woods again next year!

Neither Wild Nor Buffalo

By Jed I. Knight,
SASS #36423

So, there I was (not as Jed I. Knight, but as Jed's mild mannered alter ego) at Central Point's annual D.A.R.E. to Cruise Show and Shine (an annual event that raises money for the local PD's Drug Abuse Resistance Education). I was putting the finishing touches on my 1966 Pontiac GTO Convertible when I heard a familiar yet out of place voice. "Familiar" because I have heard it on and around the range for years (in fact, some would say there is little hope of escaping it), "out of place" because this, as I mentioned, was not a CAS event.

I turned to see my fellow JSR pard Just Bill (SASS #16394) registering for the event's Show and Shine. Just Bill headed from the registration table to the trailer his vehicle was on – not because it is a "trailer queen" but rather because getting to the event that early in the morning if he had actually driven it would have taken many hours. See what Just Bill brought to show was his replica 1901 Curved Dash Oldsmobile horseless carriage!

As he pulled his '01 into the shows parking area a large crowd of show participants began to point and then gather around Bill. It was a sight to behold. All of the participants stopped what they were doing and gathered around to study this new "old" vehicle. I have been doing the car show circuit for many years and I have seen very few cars get a reaction like this!

Need to Re-Spring Yer Mule-TTN 1878 Shotgun, That Is

By Sweetwater Jack,
SASS#28885L

Got yer new TTN shotgun, and that little packet with the lighter springs in it an' ya' don't know just where to start? Well, gather 'round, 'cause here goes! The easiest part is replacin' the HAMMER springs. Make sure you have screwdrivers that FIT the screw heads, and a small Pair of vice-grips. Starting with the left-hand lock, cock the hammer (to give you clearance for the screwdriver) and remove that one screw that's just ahead of the hammer. With the screw out, release the hammer to take some tension off the spring. Lightly tap outboard on the hammer itself with a soft-faced hammer or wood dowel, etc. The lockplate will pop out. Note that there is a small lip at the front of the opening that you'll slide the front of the lockplate under when you re-install it. Take your vice-grips and squeeze the v-spring tight back toward the rear of the spring, and work the front of the spring (with the locating pin) out of the locating pin hole and unhook the rear of the spring. Take the new left-hand

This vehicle started life in Just Bill's mind as a small gun cart, something he could attach to the rack on the back of his little GEO Tracker and take to the range. According to Just Bill the image of this vehicle kept growing in size and next thing he knew he was building the car to it's full original size. All of the work to the vehicle was done "by hand" and "from scratch" – a fascinating feat of engineering, especially for those of us who aren't so, er, uh, mechanically gifted.

One of the funniest moments at the car show was when Just Bill joined me in a conversation with the "Import Crowd" (younger participants showing late model Hondas, Mazda's, Etc...). We were discussing the modifications a couple of these guys made to their '02 and '04 Hondas – they were going on about "Cold Air Intakes", "Short Throw Shifters" (sounds almost like a conversation one would hear at a CAS shoot – regarding rifle levers), and other modifications that increased horsepower "to the wheels" in single and double digits increments. During this entire exchange the import fellows referred to their vehicles as "my 02" or "my '04". Well Bill, seeing an opportunity for some fun (something Just Bill is unable to resist), explains that his "01" is capable of reaching it's TOP SPEED in just eight seconds. This nearly put the jaws of the import fellows on the ground – what could he be driving that would do that, they thought? What modifications could he have made to a '01 Oldsmobile that would give it the ability to perform like that? I could only let it go on so long before I chimed in and explained; "he is talking about a 1901 guys. And Top Speed is a whopping 23 MPH". Laughter ensued and they quickly ran over to check out Just Bill's 1901 Oldsmobile. They went over it from front to back and bottom to top absolutely awestruck by its century old design.

During the evening, after the show and shine the city of Central Point shuts down the main street and allows the cars from the show exclusive access to cruise up and down. These show cars tour Pine Street for approximately three hours, thrilling the spectators that line the sidewalks. During this time Just Bill was gracious enough to give rides in his '01 Oldsmobile to all who asked. It was hilarious, every lap that Bill and I passed each other he had a different passenger OR two in the vehicle with him. All of the passengers, young and old, were grinning ear to ear thrilled by their opportunity to ride in this vehicle.

So next year I hope to see more of my Cowboy Pards at events around the area. Shine up that trophy winning Yamaha Midnight Star Motorcycle, Guano (SASS #57993), polish up that one owner 1969 Camaro, Shootin' Silver Star (SASS #26379) and rev up that old Goat, Rogue River Ranger (SASS #26284) and join us at next years Central Point DARE to Cruise!

In closing, if I was asked to sum up Just Bill's 01 in one word (no easy task for me!) I would have to say: Inspirational. Thanks Just Bill.

spring and clamp it in the same place you clamped the original spring. Carefully re-hook the rear of the spring, getting the raised portion at the rear under the little "shelf" and press the locator pin at the forward end of the spring into the locator hole. Release the vice-grips and make sure the new spring is positioned flush., and isn't binding the lock works. (There have been reports that some of the replacement hammer springs have just a tiny bit too much metal at the rear and need a very light touch with emery paper or a (Shudder) Dremel tool. I've changed out 6 sets of hammer springs so far and haven't had a problem yet) Repeat the process with the right lockplate and spring. Set them aside without re-installing.

To replace the "action" or "latch" spring you must remove the butt stock from the receiver. The butt stock comes off as follows: With the barrels and fore-end removed, Push the lever to the right far enough to uncover the screw on top of the receiver, just behind the lever. Remove the screw. Remove the screw at the tail end of the tang. Turn the gun over and remove the lower tang tail end screw. Now remove the trigger guard screw. Then, lift up on the trigger guard and unscrew the trigger guard from the receiver. Now remove the forward screw holding the lower tang. The stock and lower tang will separate from the receiver. The lever/action spring is at the rear of the receiver. NOTE WHICH WAY THE SPRING IS FACING. There is a "straight" side and an "angled" side. Squeeze the spring and remove it. It was suggested to use "needle-nose vice grips" but I managed just fine with a regular pair of 4" vice grips. The upper ends of the spring have raised dots to engage dimples in the receiver. Again, note which way the straight side of the spring is facing. Reassemble in the reverse sequence you followed taking it apart. Note, when the butt stock is back in place, look in the forward part of the lock-plate cut-outs and you'll see a small rod that has a "flat" milled on each end. Make sure the rod hasn't rotated a bit, blocking you from slipping the lock plates into position. Reinstall the lock plates, and tighten up all screws. That's it. Some of the packages also contain a larger, #4 Brass front sight bead. These are screw-in fits. Just pad your vice grips when removing the small one and replacing it. Only other modification you might want to do is to grind down those very sharp "ridges" on the hammers. They are just like Colt made them, but they hurt like hell if they "bite" ya! HAPPY SHOTGUNNIN'!
