This year's annual was a great event! There were 12 stages packed full of action and fun as well as side matches and it seemed everyone had a good time. Be sure to check out the photos, scores, and article about this year's event. If you have any comments or suggestions on how we can further improve our annual shoot please contact the Col. at (541) 734-8509 or email col.gilliam@charter.net.

Now we have to look to the fall and winter months, which means spooky stages, elections, turkeys, and our Christmas Party!!! Watch for info in the upcoming newsletter for details as they become available. The club is in desperate need of candidates for Secretary. After many years in this position, Shoot'n Silver Star would like a break. If you are interested in running for office (Pres, VP, Secretary, or Treasurer) please contact JD Walker. The Christmas Party is tentatively scheduled for December 10th at the IOOF Hall in Jacksonville so be sure to mark that on your calendar as well.

Happy Reading!!!

Merry Tales of Tombstone Meet Ike Clanton

By Chip Cooper
"Cooper Toons"

If you want to know about the Gunfight at the OK Corral, there's a few things you have to know first.

One of the most important facts to know is:

There really WAS a Gunfight at the OK Corral. This may seem an unnecessary point to western history aficionados. But I've known Ph. D.'s that thought it was just a Zane Grey or Louis L'Amour story. Nope, it really happened.

But even though there really was a Gunfight at the OK Corral, there really WASN'T a Gunfight at the OK Corral. Or rather what happened on October 26, 1881 in Tombstone, Arizona wasn't really at the OK Corral. But years later, after just about everyone involved was dead and gone, it DID happen at the OK Corral. If this seems confusing, it'll be explained later. But you better get used to it. The Gunfight at the OK Corral was without doubt the most confusing fifteen second gunfight in history.

And Wyatt Earp was really there, too, just like the movies say. And so was his friend John Henry "Doc" Holliday. Wyatt's brothers, Morgan and Virgil, were also there, as were a dozen or so eyewitnesses, none of whom seemed to agree on what happened.

But let's forget about the Earps for a moment. The fellow you really have to meet is the gentleman Joseph Isaac Clanton. Every-body called him "Ike". Now that's actually a pretty good thing. Certainly if you want to write about an Old West shootout, it's a help to have a guy name "Ike". Joe Clanton doesn't really quite have the right ring to it.

Ike lived on a ranch about 15 miles from Tombstone with his younger brother Billy and an older brother Phineas. Earlier their dad, Newman Hayes Clanton, usually called "Old Man" Clanton, ran the ranch but was killed in a rather controversial altercation as he led some cattle up from Mexico.

You won't hear much about Phineas and Old Man Clanton. But you will hear a lot about Ike's friends, Tom and Frank McLaury, who also had a ranch and worked pretty close with Ike and Billy. (Continued on Page 2)

Match DQ at the Unloading Table?

Discussion was raised about an "accidental discharge at the unloading table while trying to clear a jammed gun". The question was will you get a match D/Q for helping a friend unjam a gun. The short answer is: The firearm has been "declared" and is being worked on to make it safe to re-holster, return to the gun cart or to transport to the owner's vehicle. Therefore, if a round is fired into the berm during the unloading and clearing process, those at the site are AWARE of the gun's problem and it is NOT an actual "AD" as we define it. NO Match D/Q!

Multiple Squibs

A recent subject discussed on the T/G Wire was a shooter having multiple "squib rounds" at a match,

"In my club there seems to be a couple fellows that have a number of squib loads every shoot. Not only is this dangerous, it also is very disruptive to the posse. I shot at another club on Saturday and they have put in a new club rule that after your second squib load in a match your ammo is "Match DQ'ed" If the shooter can come up with ammo from another source, begged or borrowed, he can keep shooting. If not, he's done for the day." He went say that he thought the T/G group should look into a ruling on this.

The reply, from Palewolf Brunelle, was that it is already covered in the Range Officer (R.O. II) Course on page 8 - "Incidents". This states that: "Multiple squibs by a shooter will be cause for the R.O. to request shooter to CHANGE AMMO."

"Multiple squibs by a shooter will be cause for the R.O. to request shooter to CHANGE AMMO."

They all did pretty well for themselves. In fact, Tom would sometimes act as a banker and might be carrying a couple thousand dollars around with him when he was in town.

Now Ike and his friends are almost always painted as the bad guys at the OK Corral. Or they are by about 90 % of the historians and 100 % of the movies. They were rustlers, they say. So that makes them bad guys, right?

Well, if by calling them rustlers you mean they occasionally took cows that didn't belong to him, then you're probably right. But that doesn't necessarily make them bad guys. At that time and place, EVERY rancher would occasionally take cows that didn't belong to him. An old timer from New Mexico once dismissed the issue by saying rustling was hardly considered a crime at all - if you could get away with it.

But that doesn't mean there weren't some pretty bad dudes that DID rustle cattle and weren't very nice about it, either. And some of these guys would supplement their rustling income by high margin enterprises like stage coach robbery and adding a little murder on the side if it seemed necessary. Again the historians who side just a wee bit with the Earps say that Ike, Billy, Tom, and Frank did business with this somewhat more sordid element. But as you'll find out, at one time or another just about anyone who was anyone had something to do with the more shady characters.

So all in all, Ike pretty much thought of himself as a respectable a stockman, as did Tom and Frank. If they did any rustling it with enough taste and discretion to keep it within socially acceptable limits.

So they were all were set up and doing pretty well for themselves when a new family named Earp rolled into town.

Thank You from the President

Good job everybody. The 9th Annual Shoot-out at Lithia Springs has come to a successful conclusion. We received several compliments for a fun, organized, and well done shoot. Thank you for your help, it does make a huge difference!! This year we did get over 20 people to cowboy up and help with the Fridays last minute setup I hope I haven't forgotten anyone.

Shoot'n Silver Star, H. Apple Bob, Col. Cornelius Gilliam, Lady Liberty, Four Finger Sam, Mac, Harley Davidson, Jed I. Knight, Just Bill, Long Henry, Bethany (long Henry's granddaughter), Treacherous Jack, Rogue River Renegade, M. T. Dawson, J. D. Walker, Rogue Drifter, Sourdough Smitty, Rocky Retire, Bart Star, Paradise Patti, Two Tone.

I don't know the details on everyone who rearranged their schedules in order to be here, but I do know the Col. Postponed starting a new job, Rogue River Renegade and I each used vacation days, and with Jed I. Knight's job he must have put in quite a long day, this shoot could not have happened without this kind of dedication.

Once again thank you to those who helped to set up, those who helped tear down (in record time) and those who helped during the shoot with R.O'ing, picking up brass, resetting targets, counting misses, refilling water coolers, and all the things required to keep on schedule and running smoothly.

In short good team work!!

I would also like to thank our sponsors without them our prize table would not be the same!

Thank you,

Smitty

August Business Minutes

August 8th, 2005

Meeting called to order at 6:50 by President Sourdough Smitty. The meeting was held at Angelo's Pizza with 15 members present.

Minutes were approved as written on a motion by Sweetwater Jack, 2nd JD Walker, motion carried.

Treasurer's report was not available.

Ashland Gun Club: Just Bill reported on the meeting with the city council. The meeting went well and it looks like that the lease will be renewed on a rolling 10 year plan.

TG Report: Discussion on dividing the senior class in half making a Super Senior class for those 65 to 70. Black powder minimum volume or test loads being considered.

Shoot Reports: All shoots well attended and everyone reported a good time.

No scenario writers signed up as most shooters will be up at the shoot in Albany. Mac and and Rogue River Renegade will be out at the range and will set up some stages for fun for anyone that shows up.

New Business: It appears that Klamath Cowboys will be hosting the State Match next Year

Kookandude will be celebrating her 6th birthday at our next meeting; it will also be her first day of kindergarten!!!

Annual shoot meeting will be held right after the club meeting.

Motion to adjourn by H. Apple Bob, 2nd Rogue Drifter. Motion carried.!
